Do you accept consignment firearms?

Yes. We consign firearms for 12% of the sales value or $50 whichever is greater. You may have the firearm at NSC for as long or as short of time as you wish. There is no fee if the firearm does not sell prior to your removing it from NSC.

Are suppressors legal in Washington?

Yes. You are required to submit a Form 4 and purchase a Tax Stamp for $200. You are not required, but we advise our clients to put their NFA items in a Gun Trust which can be purchased at www.btalawgroup.com for $97.

Why should I put my suppressor into a Gun Trust?

A gun trust avoids the requirement to obtain fingerprints, picture and the CLEO signature. Additionally, a gun trust prevents the occurrence of an accidental felony when the purchaser dies and the suppressor is 'accidentally' transferred.

Can I put more than one suppressor/firearm in a Gun Trust?

Yes, you can put as many items as you like in a gun trust.

Are there other uses for a Gun Trust than just holding suppressors? If so, how do I learn more?

Yes, a gun trust can be a useful tool for estate planning purposes and allow the purchaser to manage his or her firearms collection. If the purchaser wants to learn more go to www.btalawgroup.com

Can NSC special order items for me?

Yes. We require a 25% deposit that is refundable up until the item ships. Once the item has shipped, the deposit is non-refundable.

Can I “try before I buy”?

Yes. There are two ways to do so. If we have the firearm in our rental counter, you may rent the firearm and we will refund you your rental price if you purchase a firearm from us the same day. If we do not have the firearm in our rental counter, but have it in the Pro-Shop, you may rent for a $50 fee, which is credited to the price of the firearm should you decide to purchase it that same day. If not, NSC keeps the $50 fee as we now have to sell the firearm as used. This applies only to firearms priced at less than $750.
